MINT-HUB

Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin

MINT-HUB: MINT International Talents at the HU Berlin: The goal is to systematically recruit high-achieving international master's students and doctoral candidates, provide them with structured support, and prepare them for academic career paths as well as the non-academic job market in Germany. The project focuses on internationally recognized research in geography, mathematics, computer science, chemistry, and physics, and addresses key aspects of the high-tech agenda, such as AI, quantum technology, and climate and sustainability research.
