The DAAD is to be congratulated on founding this German Research Hub. It is palpable testimony to the fact that German Studies at Cambridge are pursued with the interdisciplinary breadth and historical depth that a deep understanding of Germany and its manifold complexities demand.

Research topics/focus:

- All German-related subjects in the Arts
- All German-related subjects in the Humanities
- All German-related subjects in the Social Sciences

Specifics/„USP’s“:

The DAAD Hub is at the very heart of German Studies – broadly conceived – at the University of Cambridge. To date the Hub has welcomed several thousand visitors to Cambridge for lectures, conferences, workshops and seminars. As well as funding workshops and visiting academics, the Hub also organises events with high profile speakers. The Hub works closely with other DAAD centres, the Leibniz Institut für Zeitgeschichte in Munich, the Leibnizgemeinschaft, the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft, the German Embassy in London and the Goethe Institut.
