START-UP YOUR RESEARCH – WOMXN* ONLY

To all WOMXN* scientists, let's go on a journey of discovery together!

In the first part of this workshop you will learn that female entrepreneurs have high impact potential and reflect on your hidden talents and existing qualifications. Where do you find support and new opportunities? Be part of an inclusive space, share and let yourself be inspired by the stories of diverse sciencepreneurs!

In the second part of the workshop, you will reflect about user groups and the network of stakeholders that surround you and your research. Why could they benefit from your ideas? You will brainstorm potential use cases in groups and help each other take your ideas to the next level.
