What are the application requirements?

Candidates should..

…started their Master studies in Ukraine, hence had a student status at a recognized Ukrainian higher education institution on 24 February 2022 and fled because of the war;

What are the eligible fields of study (I)?

The Scholarship Programme supports full-time higher education Master’s studies (in Sub-Saharan Africa) leading to a degree.

Scholarships are awarded either for Master studies at a preferably public university in Sub-Saharan Africa that offer high quality Master’s programmes that have been accredited or for a Master’s programme at one of the DAAD's partner universities within the In-Country/In-Region scholarship programme.

What are the eligible fields of study (II)?

Applicants may
… continue their Master studies in the original study field started in Ukraine, or
… if the original study field is not available, then in the Master programme that is the closest match for the original, or
… continue their studies in another Master’s programme of which they fulfil the admission requirements based on previous, recognised studies.

Medical programmes that generally last longer than 2 years are not eligible. Whereas medical related fields such as public health or nursery programmes are eligible.
What are the funding conditions?

Funding is provided for the usual duration of a Master’s programme – generally, up to two years – starting in September 2022.

Scholarship benefits are:

- scholarship rate (monthly)
- study and research allowance (annually): MA 460 EUR
- printing allowance (once at the end): MA 400 EUR
- travel allowance: amount depends on the distance
- health insurance (only for in-regions)
- Tuition fees (maximum 2.500€ for each year within the regular period of study)

The maximum duration of the scholarship is based on the time that is left until the scholarship holder has reached the regular period of studies in that programme.
