MASTER SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMME in Sub-Saharan Africa

For Master students from Sub-Saharan Africa fleeing the war in Ukraine (to continue and complete their studies in their home country or region)

© DAAD

WHAT IS THE PROGRAMME ABOUT?

The goal of the programme is to provide Master scholarships to students who are nationals of a Sub-Saharan African country and whose Master studies are interrupted because of the war in Ukraine. Scholarship holders are given the opportunity to continue their academic career at a higher education institution in their home country or within their home region (in Sub-Saharan Africa).

WHAT KIND OF MASTER PROGRAMMES ARE ELIGIBLE?

The Scholarship Programme supports full-time higher education Master's studies leading to a degree. Applicants may:

1. either continue their Master studies in the original study field started in Ukraine, or
2. if the original study field is not available, then in the Master programme that is the closest match for the original, or
3. continue their studies in another Master's programme of which they fulfil the admission requirements based on previous, recognised studies.

Scholarships are awarded either for Master studies at a preferably public university in Sub-Saharan Africa that offer high quality Master's programmes that have been accredited or for a Master's programme at one of the DAAD's partner universities within the In-Country/In-Region scholarship programme.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

Monthly scholarship payments, Study and research allowance, Printing allowance, Tuition Fees and Travel and Health Insurance Costs (if applicable)
