4 PLACE OF TENURE FOR A MASTER'S DEGREE

5 DURATION AND COMMENCEMENT FOR A MASTER'S DEGREE

Scholarships are awarded for the standard period of study for the chosen programme, up to a maximum of 24 months. In your application, please indicate the entire period for which you are seeking a scholarship. For example, if you plan to pursue a 2-year degree programme, you must specify the two full years as your desired scholarship duration in your application. After the first year of study, your academic achievements will be reviewed as part of a further funding procedure. If your assessment shows that you will successfully complete your programme within a reasonable period of time, the scholarship will continue as planned.

The scholarship usually begins on 1st October of the following year.

Please note that the maximum duration of the scholarship consists of the year you apply for, plus the time left to the end of the regular period of studies in that programme. This portal serves as the central upload platform for all programme applications; some documents listed may not be mandatory for your specific application. Please review your programme call to confirm which documents are required.

Please be aware of the DAAD's application deadline as well as Jimma University's deadline.

The application process for DAAD scholarships consists of the following steps:

2. Log in to the portal.

▶ In addition to the DAAD application process, applicants must also apply for admission at Jimma University using the institution's contact details and procedures. Please note that the host institution sets its own admission deadline. Please familiarize yourself with the host institution's application process early.

Please note: In some countries in Sub-Saharan Africa, you must submit a document from the Qualifications Authority (e.g., from SAQA in South Africa) for university admission. Obtaining these documents can take time and it is the applicant's responsibility to secure them from the relevant authorities in time.

In a final selection organised by the DAAD, applications that have fulfilled both the admission requirements at the host university (including the university's pre-selection ranking) and the DAAD's formal criteria are reviewed by an independent selection committee. This committee consists of international university teachers and experts from German and foreign universities, and alumni. Applications are assessed based on the submitted documents, considering the institution's pre-selection ranking. Evaluation criteria include academic performance and quality, extracurricular activities, motivation, and, if applicable, relevance of the research topic. Interviews may also be conducted. The selection process typically takes place between April and September. The final decision for the region of Sub-Saharan Africa will be announced approximately six months after the application process has been concluded.

Please note that the details of the selection process and the deadlines for an announcement of the final decisions are a subject to change.

The DAAD reserves the right of final decisions.
