Vision of EU-SYNC

EU-SYNC targets a strongly interactive and cross-campus multiversity. We create synergies in research, teaching, and administration and foster innovation and inclusion. By intensifying and building upon research cooperation, we aim to conduct joint top-level research and create innovative multilateral cooperation models.

Our consortium contributes to solving current societal problems such as increasing inequality and climate change. Through innovative research in current areas of activity, such as data science, we generate solutions to global challenges. We believe that ensuring inclusive, just, and qualitatively high-level education, as well as opportunities for lifelong learning, will be crucial to Europe's future.

Stronger support for innovative learning and teaching formats will benefit new joint degree programs, hybrid models, and microcredentials. Our alumni contribute to a diverse Europe with their fortified digital, language, and cultural skills.

ACCOMPANYING NATIONAL PROGRAMME

Priorities and Project Activities

- Establishing interdisciplinary research groups that, among other things, will create a new culture of research cooperation focusing on the integration and internationalization of early career researchers
- Fostering mobility that equally supports joint research through formats such as matchmaking workshops, research stays by early career researchers, joint student projects
- Offering joint courses to implement research-oriented teaching, deepen intercultural skills, and an increase in mobility
- Publishing joint publications as a contribution to a sustainable European university network in the areas of teaching and research and to support external-funding applications
- Strengthening governance and administration by building up joint processes and infrastructure and consolidating expertise
- Digitalizing by developing and piloting, among other things, digital infrastructure and processes and expanding virtual mobility
