Vision of EUniWell

EUniWell aims to explore the multidimensional concept of Well-Being in its complexity and to contribute to its improvement through excellent research, teaching, innovation and transfer – locally, regionally, internationally and globally as well as for every individual, the society and the environment.

Our more than 60 associated partners include NGOs, cultural and research institutions, companies and our city councils. Together, we follow the aim to become a “voice for Well-Being” through addressing the complex inter-relations in innovative inter- and transdisciplinary projects and initiatives that emphasise the social relevance of the concept of “Well-Being”.

The following five thematic arenas, which are closely linked to the UN Sustainable Development Goals, will serve as networking hubs and think tanks for our collaboration and co-creative exchange: “Health and Well-Being”, “Social Equality and Well-Being”, “Environmental Change and Well-Being”, “Culture, Multilingualism and Well-Being” and “Teacher Education and Well-Being”.
